Characterized by flexibility, scalability and fiber protection, Clearfield's multi-dwelling unit product offerings are designed to be craft-friendly — reducing the time necessary to install the network. Speed of installation is maximized by using existing infrastructure, implementing end-to-end plug-and-play functionality, and interconnecting any type of pathway and media (conduit, microduct, flat fiber, microfiber).

MDU fiber optic deployments come in many different forms and for this reason, are some of the most challenging deployments for network providers. Ranging from single level townhome designs to low-rise garden style units to mid-rise and high-rise buildings, each have their own unique installation hurdles, yet all share the common need for deploying fiber quickly and easily to meet installation deadlines.

The Clearfield® MDU suite of products offer a simple solution to fit any type of MDU while providing easy-to-install, high quality connections that are easily repeatable, by any technician. Additionally, Clearfield MDU solutions require very few SKU's to complete any style of MDU structure, thus streamlining the ordering process.

By eliminating lengthy parts lists and reducing labor costs, providers are now able to install more units per day using any level of technician while ensuring the highest quality connections get made every time. The following pages illustrate how Clearfield products help you provide more services quicker, without sacrificing quality.
